

Urinating in public is disgusting behaviour

A MAN was caught on camera urinating into a drain near a void deck in Compassvale Link.

Stomper Resident, who caught him in the act and photographed him, had walked past and wondered why the man was lurking there.

"The man has this uncivilised habit of peeing in public because he assumes no one is around to see him.

"Peeing in public is disgusting behaviour, especially if female residents see it."

The Stomper urged the town council to start regular patrols to ensure that people do not urinate in public areas.