

A spur to do better

“Give more recognition to Changi’s ‘ambassadors’ – those who keep the place clean – so they know their work’s significance.”

MR YEO FENG: “As a young boy growing up in the 1980s and 1990s, I was always awestruck by how everything at Changi was kept so spotlessly clean. Sadly, in recent years, things have not been the same. On many occasions while having dinner at Terminal 3, I have found the cleanliness of its toilets to be wanting. Instead of dedicated workers toiling away, I saw cleaners idling and chatting outside toilets. Give more recognition to Changi’s ‘ambassadors’ – those who keep the place clean – so they know their work’s significance.”
