

FORUM

THE STRAITS TIMES FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 22 2008

OLD CULPRIT IN SCHOOL LOOS

"Outdated hardware may be a contributing factor to the unhygienic conditions in school toilets. Many children nowadays are not accustomed to squat toilets, so it may be difficult for them to aim accurately while trying to maintain their balance."

MS HELEN LYEN, who observes that many students also regard school toilets as places to be avoided because of the stench, stains, wet floors and non-functioning flushes
