

Cleaning supervisor charged molesting woman in female toilet

23 Sep 2010

A 52-year-old cleaning supervisor has been charged with molesting a woman inside a female restroom at the Ministry of Manpower building on 15 January.

John Wong allegedly hugged the woman from behind her waist and kissed her near her left ear.

It's believed he also held her face and kissed her on the lips. The case will be mentioned again on 7 October.

If convicted of molest, Wong can be jailed up to two years, fined or caned.
